

Chris Taylor, PhD, RD, LD is a Professor and Director of Medical Dietetics in the School of Health and Rehabilitation Sciences of the College of Medicine at The Ohio State University. He also has a courtesy appointment in the Department of Family Medicine. Trained as a Registered Dietitian Nutritionist, his research focuses on dietary intake patterns in relation to health promotion and chronic disease prevention. Dr. Taylor brings the focus of dietary patterns and behavior change to a partnership with the Department of Family Medicine to increase access of primary care patients to nutrition counseling. He has held several leadership roles with the Society of Nutrition Education and Behavior as well as the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. For the Academy, he was appointed as the chair of the Dietary Guidelines Collaborative that supported the association's response to the 2020 Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee Report.
